Dear Mr. Freeberg:

RE: The Hanford Ground Water Data Base

The Department of Ecology requires access to various databases, consistent with the intent to share data as provided in the Hanford Federal Facility Agreement and Consent Order. Use and access of data is addressed in Section 3.5 of the Action Plan, and paragraph 101. Our immediate need is to begin using information stored in the Hanford Ground Water Data Base.

Toby Michelena, RCRA Unit Supervisor, recently requested documentation for the Groundwater Database from you at the October 16, 1989 Project Managers Meeting. This is a formal request to send the complete documentation for the Ground Water Database within 45-days. This documentation should contain a complete explanation of the database and a data dictionary.

It is our intention to use telephone modems for "read only" remote access of the ground water database from our offices in Olympia, Washington. We would prefer to begin preparations for remote access with staff at Battelle and/or Westinghouse Hanford Corporation as soon as possible. Technical questions concerning preparation for remote access should be referred to Travis Young (206-438-7695).

One additional topic concerning the WIDS database is noted. Ecology did not receive complete documentation of the WIDS database following our June 10th request. We have requested a complete WIDS data dictionary, which lists and defines all fields, from Mr. Frank Calapristi of Westinghouse Hanford Corporation. This dictionary should provide sufficient and complete documentation.
